

1048 N. E. EMBROIDERS, 332,517 WORKERS IN CODE

SUPPLIES LABOR ON JOBS WHEN THOUSANDS FLEE TEAR GAS BOMB

National recovery administration headquarters in Boston announced today that 18,046 New England employees have signed in signed pledges and put 332,517 employees under the code system.

Another announcement made today, also indicating progress toward recovery, was that some small communities actually have no surplus labor available and factories are far behind in filling orders.

A new policy of complete frankness, rather than partial reticence, at the headquarters at 50 Federal street, resulted in the disclosure of considerable information of public interest bearing on the progress of the drive.

DAY BY DAY FIGURES

Complete figures on the number of signed pledges, as given out by Hugh Butler, local representative of the National Recovery Administration, were as follows:

Saturday (first day): 1,573 employees.

Sunday: 5,471 employees; 47,222 employees.

Monday: 2,041 employees; 60,963 employees.

Tuesday: 3,701 employees; 62,313 employees.

Wednesday: 6,554 employees; 67,373 employees.

Thursday: 10,046 employees; 332,517 employees.

The biggest day of all was yesterday, indicating that the campaign was swiftly gathering impetus.

More Jobs March Gains Recruits

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—Today's status of fair competition codes presented by the bigger industries and now pending before the recovery administration:

Oil—Final draft begun.

Steel—Private conferences continue on price and production control and labor terms.

Women's Coat and Suit—Awaiting presidential promulgation.

Coal—Set for hearing August 15.

Automobiles—To be heard August 15.

Retail Trade (Except food stores)—To be heard August 15, but now temporarily in effect.

Food Dealers—Temporarily effective, hearing to be set.

Lumber—Revision continues.

Many others are in various stages of development, including the garment and shirt, public and the shoe industry.

put into effect before the signed "compliance blank" can be filed with the postmaster in exchange for a Blue Eagle.

Many business executives are finding that it is taking more time than they contemplated to complete the changes required to enable them to file the compliance blank.

The public should be somewhat patient while their employees or the many smaller businesses are engaged in carrying out their promise to the President to co-operate in restoring employment and raising total wages.

UNEMPLOYMENT DROPS

"The adversity staff of the district recovery board is working long hours every day, attempting to answer the thousands of questions asked every day by letter and in person by employees who are sincerely trying to iron out the difficulties which appear in applying the President's re-employment agreement to their own businesses."

1000 ALL IN ONE

At this point Butler called attention to the fact that in the figures he gave out, a chain store system, for example, with 1700 stores counted only as one employer.

He said that many business men employing less than three persons would shortly join the movement, swelling the total greatly.

These individuals were not sent pledge blanks, and yet they were eager to sign up and to get the Blue Eagle intended for their windows. Accordingly they will be sent blanks through the postoffice.

The subject being discussed of the public looking for Blue Eagles in the stores they visit, Mr. Butler and E. Freeland, technical adviser to the local recovery board, said:

"The public should remember that there are two steps to be taken before a business can secure and display a Blue Eagle."

TWO STEPS NECESSARY

"First the employer must sign a copy of the President's Re-employment Agreement (blank) and send it in. These are coming in by the thousands every day.

"Next, the necessary changes and adjustments must be made and new hour-and-wage scales

Farmer Dies in Milk Battle

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 4 (INS)—The first fatality in the New York State milk strike came today when Henry Bortle, 69, Onondaga county, succumbed to a heart attack while trying to escape a group of striking farmers who had stopped the truck on which he was riding.

He slumped to the floor of the truck and lay there while his milk was being dumped. The farmers then carried his body to a nearby barn.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—Maj. John Walker, superintendent of State Police, said today that two troopers had been attacked and injured by a milk strike mob near Fonda last night. The men were Troopers Fritz and Kearns.

In another clash a deputy sheriff, Floyd Newkirk, was clubbed so badly that his skull was fractured by a State trooper who mistook him for a striker.

Johnson Will Put Pressure on the Code Holdouts Soon

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—Two weeks leeway was decreed by Hugh Johnson, recovery administrator, today before sanctioning pressure on business and industry to comply with President Roosevelt's blanket wage and employment agreement.

The administrator said a period of time was necessary for business houses to adjust their personnel to new wage and hour levels, and until this transitional period is ended "the public must be reasonable."

At the same time Johnson warned that no "reconciliation minority" would be permitted to hold up the recovery program.

DEAD CERTAINTY

Asked if there was a likelihood of the "teeth" of the recovery act being used if business failed to go along on the program with industry, Johnson said: "Dead certainty." He added, however, that the whole aim of the law was to avoid the use of compulsion.

No police organization in Washington to prevent violations of the President's agreement. By business which have indicated compliance, he obtained the Blue Eagle is contemplated.

The administrator said "No" eagle is contemplated would be left to public opinion in each community.

He added, "that will be enough."

BARS SPECIAL FAVORS

Washington, Aug. 4 (INS)—Chain stores were given a separation from the already existing retailers' code so that they could operate on a different hour and wage basis, the administrator said "No" eagle is contemplated.

He said the important steel code, upon which hearings were held last week, was now going through a period of delay and that it would be a week or 10 days before a proposed final code could be submitted to employers and spokesmen for labor.

The "teeth" in the industrial act compared with the President's plan as licenses industries. If some concerns refuse to abide by a code adopted, the final code will be adopted, the administrator said.

12 INDICTED IN FOOD RACKET

New York, Aug. 4 (INS)—Nineteen men who have been indicted in a "handling" racket which costs millions of dollars a year were launched today with nine men and three organizations, under federal indictment.

Violations of the Sherman antitrust law in racketeering of free on a food racket, involving violation from fruit and vegetable dealers are charged.

Retail dealers picking up food on trucks from the city are charged with racketeering. The racket is said to cost $250,000 a year, according to the government.

The racket is said to be controlled by the Market Truckmen's Association, the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association and the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Drivers, Local 202, with the officers of each.

PINCHOT SEES Code Closing Starts Riots

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania, after a conference with Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, industrial recovery administrator, said today settlement of the Pennsylvania bituminous coal strike apparently was near.

The governor felt better about the situation this morning than he has previously.

Johnson called Pinchot, coal operators and labor leaders to his office early to report what progress had been made since yesterday's meeting.

He also said before the conference a report on what President Roosevelt had taken in breaking the deadlock, which was made shortly after Johnson called the opposing groups together.

"It was pretty mad yesterday," Pinchot said, his face wreathed in smiles, "but I feel a whole lot better this morning."

Neither John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, nor Pinchot would disclose the steps toward an agreement.

A. & P. JOINS UP UNDER CODE

Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—Police reserves were called out last night when demonstrators, estimated to number about 200, gathered in front of two stores which were open after the 5:30 closing hour which retailers have established here. Other stores were visited.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—For the second time within three days, demonstrators have threatened violence against stores in which the 5:30 closing hour was not observed.

Several missiles were thrown during the demonstration and two store employees were reported to have been struck.

PICTURES TELL DRAMA OF JESSIE COSTELLO'S FIGHT FOR LIFE

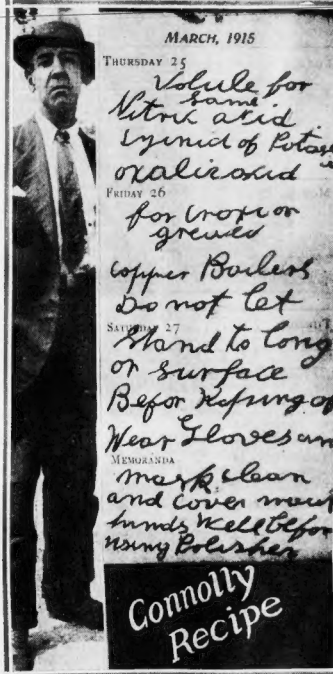

RECORD CROWD VIEWS "SMILING WIDOW" LEAVING COURT
Hundreds of curious and interested spectators were on hand to see Mrs. Jessie B. Costello leave the Salem courthouse after her second day of testifying on the witness stand. Fully 1500, women predominating, were on hand. Many remarks, some good, some not-so-good, were uttered in half-whispers as the "Smiling Widow" entered the auto of the sheriff.

The index finger of Dist. Atty. Hugh A. Crook was used by him to put force into the questions he asked Mrs. Costello.

CYANIDE RECIPE IN DIARY
Eighteen years before Fire Capt. William Costello died, a mixture of oxalic acid and cyanide potassium found a place in the pages of the diary of James Connolly, above, a Roxbury metal-worker, as the "perfect cleaner" for metals. Found by the Boston American, Connolly will be an important witness for the Costello defense. Photograph of page of diary containing Connolly's recipe for a "perfect cleaner" is shown. The date is of March, 1915.

(See story about Mr. Connolly's recipe on Page 13.)

AIDING HER
Atty. Francis E. Rafter, one of the battery of lawyers for the defense, who is quite certain that the jury of Mrs. Costello will return, without much ado, a verdict of "not guilty."

SHE STICKS TO HER MAN
A courageous figure in the stark Costello drama is Mrs. Edward McMahon, wife of the "liso-and-tell" accuser of Mrs. Costello. She has forgiven her husband and is leading the fight to re-establish him so he can care for their two children. This new picture shows them together, she the strong character, he the penitent. U. S. AGENTS NIP PLOT ON KIDNAP WITNESSES

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 4 (AP)—Five witnesses in the kidnaping of William Hamm, Jr., wealthy brewer, were objects of an underworld death plot, U. S. federal operatives and three city detectives hurried here from Chicago today. The officers will guard all five witnesses closely until they testify against Roger Touhy, Chicago gang leader, and three associates now held in Milwaukee on charges of kidnaping Hamm.

Informing that four other gangsters sought for the Hamm kidnaping are in hiding near here, the officers also planned to search for the hideout. The four men sought are Tommy O'Connor, fugitive Chicago killer; Tommy Touhy, brother of Roger Touhy; Gus La May, gunman sought by police of 10 states; and Roy Marshall.

Federal authorities were informed of the reported plot to kill all five witnesses in secret information sent to Melvin Purvis chief of the Chicago Bureau of Investigation.

Dr. Mayo's Estate Under Heavy Guard

Revere, Mass., Aug. 4 (AP)—Special precautions were taken today to guard the estate of Dr. Charles H. Mayo, world famous surgeon, after a supposed attempt to kidnap his grandchildren was foiled by a nurse.

"Shoot first and make explanations afterwards," Dr. Mayo advised servants and police. "Three children of the surgeon's son, Dr. Charles W. Mayo, were sleeping in the nursery when Miss Marie Langwith, the nurse, was awakened by a man who carefully turned the knob of a door leading to the nursery. The nurse, by the nurse's shout, he fled to a waiting automobile."

Fortified Irishcl Hideout Discovered

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 4 (AP)—Discovery of a fortified hideout used by the kidnapers of Charles F. Ulrich, millionaire operator, was announced today by Sheriff W. W. Jennings of Cleveland county.

The hideaway, three-room abode, amply fitted with gun loopholes in the walls, was located in a sparsely settled area near Norman.

Sheriff Jennings said the kidnapers presumably had occupied the shack, immediately after Ulrich was abducted, July 22.

Servants $6700 and Tumor Gone. Employers Held

New York, Aug. 4—Anastasia Kory worked most of her 45 years as a maid, accumulating $6700 and a tumor. Today she has neither.

That—if her charges are true—is the wife of Jake and Mollie Aronowitz.

Four years ago she went to work in the Aronowitz household—scrubbing an enoki. She had the tumor then and $6700. They paid her $3 a month.

Lean days came upon the Aronowitzes. Their history business slumped. They told Anastasia they no longer could pay her a wage but she might stay on for doles if she wanted to.

T. Aronowitz began to wonder where their servant got her spending money. One day they came upon the handbook showing $6700 deposits.

As the story was presented in court, the Aronowitzes urged the servant to submit to an operation

U. S.-China in Secret Pact

Tokio, Aug. 4 (AP)—The usually conservative newspaper Asahi gave a prominent place today to "reliable reports" of a secret Chinese-American aviation treaty in Washington by Dr. S. Alfred Soe, Chinese minister, with the State Department.

"If made effective, Asahi said, 'it will greatly menace Japan's national defense, whereas the reports claim serious attention of the imperial army.'"

The treaty, Asahi said, would give the United States Government and American Aircraft Manufacturers a monopoly over China's military and air forces, involving $400,000,000, and including a schedule of all types by 1937.

Furthermore, according to Asahi, American instructors will supervise Chinese training and establish a huge airplane factory in China.

S. C. Governor Died Waiting for Drink

Los Angeles, Aug. 4 (AP)—Before enjoining for home last night, Gov. L. B. Blackwood of South Carolina, settled a moot question in his own satisfaction, when he declared it was one of his own predecessors, and not a governor of North Carolina, who observed with emotion that "it's a long time being drunk."

"What he said to the governor of North Carolina," Blackwood explained, "was: 'Remember the fate of Montenegro.'"

"The governor of North Carolina inquired: 'Who the hell was Montenegro?'"

"The governor of South Carolina replied: 'He was the man who died waiting for a drink.'"

10,000 Drowned in Floods in China

Shanghai, Aug. 4 (AP)—Ten thousand persons drowned and a like number was made homeless in floods along the Chang river in North Central China, Chinese dispatches from Sian said today.

Hundred villages were destroyed.

Hugh Gibson at Rio

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Aug. 4 (AP)—Hugh Gibson, American ambassador, arrived today with Mrs. Gibson. He formerly was the American envoy at Brasilia, and in recent years he participated in many of the international conferences in Europe.

For removal of the tumor. Finally she consented.

She turned $6700 over to Aronowitz, arranging that he should pay for the operation and give her back the rest on her recovery.

The operation cost $100. "This had been paid," Anastasia asked for her balance—$6600. Aronowitz took the request with the remark: "There wasn't any $6600."

The servant told her story to police. The history man told detectives the $6600 was a figment of the woman's imagination.

In a cash box buried in the cellar of the Aronowitz house, police the officer found Anastasia's bankbook—cancelled.

Mrs. Aronowitz finally said she and Jake had invested $3000 and the remaining $3600 had been deposited. Checking at the bank police found the $3600 had been withdrawn by Aronowitz.

The Aronowitzes were held for grand jury on charges of grand larceny. Magistrate Zach S. Smith commented that it was "the roughest crime" he ever heard of.

CURLEY SCORED ON BUDGET

Alleged "extravagance" of the Curley administration in securing a supplementary budget appropriation of $444,000 for non-relief municipal departments was scored today by the Boston Municipal Research Bureau.

The mayor was accused of breaking faith with taxpayers in the statement.

The Research Bureau charges that one of the strongest inducements held out to investors in the recent sale of city bonds was the fact that Mayor Curley pledged himself to economy, which are now wiped out by the supplementary budget appropriations.

The statement points out that when the legislature fixed an appropriation limit of $6,750,000 for the City of Boston, the amount was only $750,000 less than that requested by the Curley administration. It was understood that this reduction would be made in departments other than welfare and indigent relief.

Agreement with this program was voiced by Mayor Curley in public statements, but despite this the supplementary budget provided $444,000 for non-relief departments, it is charged.

"Welfare borrowing is just around the corner and economy at City Hall has received another setback," the statement concludes.

New York, Aug. 4 (INS)—More than 2,500 employees of the stock exchange will immediately receive a ten per cent pay increase, the exchange announced today, by the acceptance of President Roosevelt's re-employment agreement.

Stolen Lager Wafts Pair to Cell

Edward McMahon and James Payer, two men about town and about Dartmouth st., stepping lightly into jail today right from a pleasant little stolen beer party.

McMahon and Payer were arrested last night in a Dartmouth st. rooming house as they slumbered beside an empty quarter-barrel which had contained 32 beer and which had been reported stolen from the Shawmut Lunch, next door.

The pair said they had arrived at the room, McMahon's room, to find three men there, none of whom they knew by name, and to be invited into the beer party.

They were held in $200 each for the grand jury after Special Officer Lawrence J. O'Connor told the court this was the fourth quarter-barrel stolen from the restaurant in a short time.

FUSIONISTS PICK LA GUARDIA

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—Fusionists in La Guardia's chosen today as mayoral candidate by forces seeking to force Tammany from City Hall this fall.

A "peace" meeting of fusionists, comprising Republicans and other foes of the dominant Democracy, picked the former Congressman toward the end of a meeting that lasted into the early hours of this morning.

The choice of La Guardia, a non-organization Republican, was a victory for Samuel Beahm, independent Democrat, whose investigation resulted in the resignation of Mayor J. Walker, Tammany mayor.

Maj. Gen. John F. O'Reilly, candidate of former Gov. Charles S. Whitman and others withdrew in the interest of harmony.

Prussian Axeman Replaces Guillotine in Germany

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND (Copyright, 1933, by Editorial Service, Inc.)

Berlin, Aug. 4.—A gigantic hand-sawing man, a heavy wooden block and a "beastman" in full evening dress today had officially become Germany's method of executing criminals from all political convictions of social and political crimes carrying the penalty of death.

The French guillotine, reminiscent of the "terror" and still in use in Paris, will be abolished in the states outside Prussia, where it has been in force under the government's new death penalty decrees.

Instead, the Prussian method of beheading is to be used. The medieval headman, however, will be refined and modern evening clothes and will not wear a black mask as customary beheador.

This coordination in the manner of execution was agreed upon when Prussian Premier Herman Wilhelm Goerring's proposed new

REPEAL WHEN 36 STATES PASS

Washington, Aug. 4 (INS)—Eighteenth Amendment will be repealed automatically the moment 36th state convention acts favorably upon the 21st repeal amendment.

This opinion was given today by Asst. Secretary of State Harry F. Payer, legal adviser of the department.

Asserting that the action of three-fourths of the states, as required by the Constitution, and not the proclamation of the Secretary of State governed the date of repeal, Payer said:

"The ratification by convention in the last required state will validate to all intents and purposes the repeal of the 18th amendment to the Constitution."

"Under Article 5 of the Federal Constitution and under the provision of the Senate joint resolution proposing repeal, the date of ratification by the last requisite state will govern and consummate the repeal—not the date of certification or proclamation that may be made by the Secretary of State."

"The question was clearly settled by the Supreme Court of the United States in 1921 and by the Federal Court of Appeals. It is the ratification and not the proclamation that consummates the repeal."

N.Y. Stores Threaten to Make Own Light

New York, Aug. 4 (INS)—New York department stores today threatened to operate their own power plants unless cuts were made in light rates.

Grover A. Whalen, general manager of a leading store, told the public service commission that department stores, consuming more than $100,000 electric energy annually, were planning to build their own power plants unless temporary rate reductions were granted promptly.

penal code referring to punishment of crime came up at a conference between Prussian and Reich authorities.

"Ruthless and unrelenting punishment" and "make the prison such a terror no one will ever return" will be the bywords of the new scheme of prison reform.

Humanitarianism with persons convicted of crimes has been over-emphasized and "has been a failure," the German press after the ministry of justice conference, said.

"Execution must again be made the purpose of punishment."

6 FOUND AFTER NIGHT IN WOODS

Deceased from an all-night rain and weak from the torment of insects, six Wakefield berry pickers were rescued in the dense woods at the Reading-Anderson line early today by volunteer searchers from the Civilian Conservation Corps camp at North Andover.

Two children, a girl, 5, and a boy, were added with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lyons, Harold Lederquist, a Wakefield fireman, and John Patch of Crystal Lake Park, Wakefield, when the forest searchers stopped to help them.

The six became lost when darkness fell last night and the down-pour that started shortly after midnight added to their woes. The searchers were attracted by noise, first cries of the lost group, and then shouts that had suggested earlier shouts that were not heard.

After first aid by the rescuers, the six were taken to their homes.

has gone CRAZY

SUMMERFIELD'S

ONE OF AMERICA'S GREAT FURNITURE STORES

BOSTON—727 Washington St.—Corner Stuart

SOMERVILLE—Davis Square—212 Elm St.

AUGUST
SALEHERE'S SOME INSIDE INFORMATION ON THE FURNITURE SITUATION!

For about a year we were continually threatened with higher prices. Factories everywhere—Grand Rapids, Rockford, Jamestown, etc., warned us that prices were bound to rise skyward. They kept on talking; and although prices did not go up immediately we were careful to watch every move. The truth of the matter was—people were still cautious about buying. And until they got over that feeling, prices could not go up.

But in the past 6 weeks the Furniture market has gone crazy... positively off their heads! What I've seen in the wholesale Manufacturing Centers during the past few weeks is a clear picture of the big change ahead in business conditions over the entire country.

Prices have jumped already up 50% to 70% simply because the public is in a rush to buy. They are flocking to furniture stores all over the country. Many dealers caught unawares are making a run on the factories. Consequently sell-outs have brought a price boost, now over 50%, which will double within a short few weeks (if we know our furniture). There will be a big shortage of good furniture by September. And due to that shortage you can expect to pay double prices. There is no guesswork about this.

This sale is a bid for your friendship and good will. As long as our limited stocks last, they are yours at the prices quoted. But when they are gone you must expect to pay a lot more. This is definitely our last sale at "Give-Away Prices" and those who respect our advice will act at once! A small deposit will hold your purchase free... until wanted.

WIFE SEEKS CASH AND TO FIGHT HIGH PLAYBOY LONG'S SUIT

Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

Natick, Aug. 4.—Taking the last few pennies from the bank of her 16-year-old daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Richard P. Long today purchased stationery to begin what may be her last legal battle to protect the future of her child.

Notified that her husband had filed suit for divorce in Little Rock, Ark., and that the suit will be tried on Aug. 20, the wife of the Framingham playboy found herself unable to fight charges of desertion because of ill health, which forbids traveling and lack of funds.

HER LAST HOPE

Grasping at what she believes her only hope to protect herself and child, Mrs. Long will write to the Chief Justice of the Arkansas court explaining her present circumstances and advising him that Long owes her $25,000 alimony awarded her when she obtained a separate support decree on grounds of desertion and adultery.

Seventeen years ago in Natick, this woman, Miss Grace Dolan, married Richard P. Long. She was a teacher in the Natick grammar school.

Long was the son of Richard H. Long, one of the wealthiest men in Framingham and a recognized leader in Democratic politics.

In Framingham the Long family still lives in the petulant family home on Winter st., in an exclusive section of the town.

ON DOLL LIST
In Natick, Mrs. Grace Long, the wife of "Dick" Long, was found living with her daughter, in a small room paid for by the town of Natick.

In the town welfare files is the name of Mrs. Grace Long listed as the mother of one child. Records there show she receives $8 weekly.

Grace Dolan Long is no longer an attractive girl. Her nerves are at the breaking point and doctors have told her that her heart is weak.

She is living only for her daughter. She hopes to see the child educated as she was, as her father was—he graduated from Harvard College—and possibly like herself become a school teacher.

For the first time since her long legal battle with her husband started Mrs. Long heard her first in interview today. She said she was in the room the town pays for. Here it is:

WED 17 YEARS AGO
"I married Richard Long just 17 years ago last Monday. Seventeen years ago today I was on my honeymoon, the happiest girl in the country, with the man I thought was going to make the finest husband any girl could hope to have."

"It seems that it was only yesterday, and at the very minute I have only a beautiful 16-year-old girl who hasn't seen her father since she was six."

"Seventeen years ago I could have had anything my heart desired. Today you will find my name on the list of welfare recipients because my husband has chosen to forget me and his daughter. He has chosen to leave her care and future with me without providing either of us with the means of existence."

"As a matter of fact I care nothing for my own future. For me I am convinced the future is for a few years. My health is ruined and I can live but a comparatively short time, but Dorothy is young and I want to have her educated, and her father and her grandfather don't seem to want to bother."

"Two years ago I was granted separate support from my husband and he was ordered to pay me $20 a week for myself and Dorothy. For awhile he paid, but suddenly he stopped and the weeks have passed by until he now owes me $25,000."

HUSBAND INDICTED
"Some weeks ago I told my story to Dist. Atty. Warren L. Bishop, and the grand jury indicted my husband for non-support. Extradition was ordered, but the governor of Arkansas refused to honor the papers because he said my husband was out of employment."

"I am not critical of this action, but I am sure that if he had heard the facts of the case that he would have allowed my husband's return here in face of it."

"And now the word blow of all has come to me. Yesterday I was notified that my husband had filed suit for divorce the second time in Little Rock against me. The first suit I contested out there and it was dismissed."

ASKS FATHERS AID
"I have appealed to my father, Richard H. Long, in Framingham, to help me for Dorothy's sake and one night he came to me to advise me a idea from me. When he saw Dorothy, he said 'Gosh' and then he turned to me and suggested that she was big enough to go out and work to help me out. And she is only 16 years old."

"Last February I received a letter from my husband asking me to return to him. He started his letter by saying me as 'Darling Grace' and then began 'I am asking you with all the sincerity in my heart to come here and start over again.' He promised that he would provide for me and Dorothy and said that wanted a home and pleaded with me to come to him."

WILLING TO RISK
"I told him in my answer to him that I would be willing to talk it all over with him, but that I could not go on to Little Rock. I suggested that he come back here and I told him that if he would promise to be a real husband to me I would be willing to let my part and remain here for the sake of Dorothy."

"At the latest Mrs. Long made it clear that there are two things she is determined about. The first that her husband be turned here on the non-support indictment. The second that the suit for divorce be dismissed."

Gandhi Gets a Year in Prison

Poona India, Aug. 4 (AP).—After a brief moment of liberty, the Mahatma Gandhi was re-arrested today and immediately sentenced to one year in jail because he declined to remain in Poona and he decided to enter his political activities.

The magistrate explained that because of the age of the Mahatma and the condition of his health, the sentence was only one year of simple imprisonment. Mr. Gandhi was to be placed among the lowest grade prisoners.

The nationalist leader informed the court that it was no pleasure to him to break the laws of the state. He was offering all the resistance in an unjust system of government.

THREE DEAD IN DENVER FLOOD

Denver, Aug. 4.—Cherry Creek flowed gently in its concrete channel today unlike the raging torrent which took three lives and did damage possibly in excess of a million dollars yesterday.

Residents long had feared what happened—collapse of Castlewood dam 30 miles upstream. Constructed 44 years ago it had been a menace for 20 years and engineers frequently pronounced it unsafe.

A cloudburst caused the break. Damage in Denver was confined to bridge, 12 of which were taken out by the flood—the warehouse section and the country club residential district. The largest part of the estimated damage—$300,000—was that to farmers along the course of the stream from the dam to the city.

THIS IS LIFE

End of a "Coolidge Period"

and Lesson It Has Taught

By ROBERT E. ROGERS

YESTERDAY MARKED the tenth anniversary of that scene which so captured the imagination of the American people, Calvin Coolidge's taking the oath as President of the United States at 3 o'clock in the morning in the lamplight room of a little Vermont farmhouse. The oath was administered by the Rev. Mr. H. H. Burleigh, a plain farmer of the old school and local justice of the peace. The whole circumstance was so dramatic, and in accord with what might be called the older American tradition, that it undoubtedly played an important part in that great return of confidence to the presidency which marked Mr. Coolidge's first term. A week or two ago a plain but beautiful marker was set up in the Plymouth cemetery to serve as a permanent memorial of the event which really ended that decade as an epoch in American history. For before Franklin Roosevelt was inaugurated Calvin Coolidge was dead. The defeat of Mr. Hoover last November was the defeat of a man who had reaped the whirlwind which had been sown in Mr. Coolidge's time and was the symbol of his political and economic philosophy.

Coolidge's Heritage Hard One Too

To pick out any particular decade for its strikingly sensational or personal nature is probably futile. Particularly full of noteworthy events in life, it would seem, faster and faster every year. Next year at this time we shall be remembering—if not celebrating—the twentieth anniversary of that tragic week of errors and fears and cross purposes which began the Great War. This score of years—1914 to 1934—has won a bad eminence, beyond any of modern times, for events which destroyed one age and with terrible but pangs brought another, still sticky and unstable into being.

Of that instability the decade since Mr. Coolidge took his oath of office is loud testimony. It is no easy task to evaluate Mr. Hoover for his failure by pointing out that he only inherited a bad condition for which Coolidge, in the eyes of history, must take some responsibility, some moral responsibility at least.

But on those grounds we must also remember that Coolidge, too, inherited conditions that could not fail to produce disaster. I ran across a line in Sinclair Lewis' "Babbalanza" the other day, which sums it all up. "A Mr. Warren Harding, a United States Senator, was appointed President." The indefinite article and the word "appointed" tells the whole story. Harding was elected to liquidate the war as speedily and as profitably for the Republic as he could, restore "normalcy," and to bring back conditions as they were during the Presidency of William Howard Taft when Cannon and the Old Guard were still in power. The "Ohio Gang" was only a louder and more vulgar, less shrewd and more blatant version of the Old Guard. No Jacksonian democracy ever practiced the doctrine that to the victor belong the spoils as ruthlessly as did the crowd that hung out in the Little House in K. K. The code was individualism unabashed and plunder as of right.

Coolidge Stuck to His Code

Even upon Harding's death and the accession of Coolidge the American people hardly began to realize what had been happening. But no storm of popular indignation stirred the new President to move one jot from his inherited philosophy—do not meddle unnecessarily, do not cry over spilled milk, do not interfere with individual enterprise, do not extend the powers of the government, withal, let things take their course, trust the powers of the government, let things take their course, trust the powers of the government, let things take their course, trust the powers of the government.

The result was the wind which the Harding philosophy sowed became a hurricane under the Coolidge philosophy. An old children's rhyme might have served for the motto of the Coolidge administration.

"What do they do in Spain when it rains?"

Let it rain!

The rain, to change the figure, became a cloudburst, a deluge, of stock speculation. Another Mississippi, another South Seas bubble, another Dutch tulip mania, built on the dream of inexhaustible resources and infinite pyramiding of profits. Then the bubble burst, but not before Mr. Coolidge was safely off the scene of action.

Mr. Hoover inherited the philosophy and its results. He still clung to rugged individualism in the face of disaster, saw with indomitable faith the way always around the corner, and toiled heroically to solve a new world situation by the formulae of a century gone by. He failed.

"World Is Born Anew"

It is a pathetic coincidence that the death of Mr. Coolidge and the beginning of a new and obviously revolutionary era almost coincided. For there can be no doubt that whether Mr. Roosevelt's policies succeed wholly or in part or not at all, the very fact that they had to be devised and put into effect means a revolutionary change such as the English speaking world has not known for centuries.

It is worth while, therefore, noting the passing of this memorable and startling decade which, so far as we can tell today, equalizes the most extreme high water mark of a system which most of us were brought up to believe in as the law of nature and then its cataclysmic dam-bursting and flood and subsidence. Not many decades in modern history have seen such extremes and have been at such loss to understand them and control them.

A hundred years ago or thereabouts, Shelley wrote with revolutionary and utopian ardor after a similar catastrophe.

"The world's great age begins anew."

Let us hope so!

WHEE RESCUED DURING STORM OFF QUINCY

Schooner Magellan Is Saved as Northeaster Lashes N. E. Coast

Two sailing parties and the schooner Magellan were rescued by the cutter after being driven ashore by a northeast storm which hit the New England coast, sinking many small craft at its moorings and driving others ashore.

The driving storm, following a night of wind which broke the back of the heat wave, narrowed three QuinCY boats on Hamman's Island, off Quincy Bay, and drove the schooner Magellan ashore.

At the height of the driving storm, Capt. Holbrook and a crew from the City Point coastguard station, answering telephone alarms from the Hamman's Island, picked up Thomas Hallam, 37, of 20 Williams st., Atlantic, and two brothers, Frederick Walker, 16, and Edward, 14, both of Fayette st., Atlantic, whom they found in a boat on Hamman's Island.

After this rescue was completed, the cutter was called out to assist a fishing schooner, the Magellan, which was in danger of being driven ashore by the heavy seas.

The storm which caused all this difficulty passed out to sea today, with the weather bureau predicting fair weather tonight and Saturday with a rising temperature.

The temperature in Boston was 55.8 in. today, in contrast to a reading of 58 degrees at the same hour two days ago.

The choir leader was released by Cambridge police today as the victim of an extortion ring for weeks past had been reaping a golden harvest from the extortion carried on in subway stations in Boston and Cambridge.

The choir leader and one of the alleged leaders of the extortion ring were picked up in Harvard rd., Cambridge, just as the choir leader was drawing a checkbook to make his fourth payment to the gang.

The choir leader is Leon M. Perkins, an Ivory carrier of Chestnut Hill ave., Brighton. The alleged extortionist is John H. Selwin, 26, of Warren ave., Boston, who has been turned over to Boston police.

Perkins is leader of the choir of the Central Square Baptist church, Cambridge. In his capacity he paid the extortionists $248 after they had been threatened with arrest.

HONOR CLIPPER DESIGNER

striking memorial to Donald McKay, the designer of the famous clipper ships who put New England first in the carrying trade three-quarters of a century ago, is well on its way toward completion at Castle Island, South Boston, where it will take the main ship channel. Funds were raised privately and the site chosen with approval of Park Commissioner William J. Long.

Statue to Commemorate Speedy Yankee Clipper

The famous Yankee clipper ships are going to keep a place in future generations' memories as a group of East Boston boys and the town park commission can have a part in it.

And in this revolution is found an answer to questions asked every day by thousands of beach comers who have seen a statue standing from the northeast side of Castle Island.

The statue is being erected with private funds and approval of the park commission as a memorial to Boston's Donald McKay, the most famous of the Yankee clipper designers.

Nearing completion, the scaffolding of the statue will be removed next month, and a public unveiling will occur in October.

In East Boston reaction for the hull of the clipper fleet, in which the New England trade to the California gold rush in 1849 reached its height, is being expressed in a different manner.

At the Goodwill Settlement House 30 boys are working on models of the clipper ships designed by McKay. Their workshop is in Winter st., two blocks from the Jeffrey Pomeroy home where the famous designer lived throughout his life.

Seventeen models of McKay clipper ships are almost completed. With materials furnished by sympathetic persons, the models have been fashioned without previous help an assortment of exact first models.

"LIGHTNING" FAVORITE The "Great Republic" McKay's masterpiece, which burst at a New York dock without having a chance to break the records her creator was sure she would shatter, is a popular model for the amateur designer.

That the pride of the Goodwill settlement workshop is "Lightning" her smooth lines and heavily canvassed sails not only promised but delivered, records "Lightning" was one of the fastest clipper ships ever built.

GIRL ROBBED OF $650 IN PARK

DOOR IN TOWN

Scores See Two Young Thugs Attack Her in Park Sq.

While scores of persons crowded the corridors of the State House building today, a young girl was attacked and robbed of $650 in a doorway in the main hallway of the building.

It was during the late afternoon when Miss Ida M. McKee, a 21-year-old girl, was walking through which she was attacked.

The girl placed the money in a handbag, and stepped from the bank into the main hallway of the building.

As a dozen men and women started toward the girl, the pair of holdup men fled down the long corridor.

Cries of "Stop Thief" brought scores into the chase.

Halfway down the corridor, and only a few feet ahead of the leaders, the pair of holdup men were suddenly turned into a vacant room, the doors of which they had previously opened.

Through the doorway and across the hall, the pair of holdup men fled. The girl ran straight into a narrow passageway leading between the buildings into Boylston st.

Because he could not be identified as the driver who had parked the car, Joseph S. Fox of Marlboro st., Cambridge, a Boston business man, defeated 17 parking charges today in multiple court.

The 12 tickets affixed in Fox's car charged overtime parking, leaving no car on restricted streets and parking in loading zones.

Chief Justice Wilfred Robles cleared Fox and dismissed the parking charges when Fox promised the cutting officer admitted that Fox had not been seen to leave the car at any of the times or at drive it away again.

Driver, Tossed in Crash, Near Death

Wm. Wrentall, 37, of 340 Park st., Dorchester, driver of a milk wagon, is lying at Boston City Hospital, from injuries received when he was thrown from a milk wagon in DASH Road, West Green Harbor, when an auto, operated by Thomas M. Dineen, 41, of West Green Harbor, struck the rear of the wagon.

Boy, 6, in 30-Foot Plunge to Death

A lone casket in the third-floor window of his home brought death in a 30-foot fall to six-year-old John P. Lodi, Jr., of Marcella st., East Cambridge. The boy was picked up unconscious and taken to Cambridge Municipal Hospital, but died soon after admittance.

Spiritual Stable
Cleaning for the Horse Show Game

Social Horsemen
Sometimes Stoop
to Race Trace Code

By AUSTEN LAKE

IT is all a matter of spirit and spirit means something. It is the spirit that some of the genuine horse-loving owners, who are financially and morally above freezing a nag's ankle or jabbing him with a syringe full of strychnine, do not put the game in disgust and go to cultivating prize grapes or champion pectin. Only, social conditions being what they are, I suspect that there would even be chiselers among the grape and pectin men, who might use stimulants to make fruit grow to false size and luster or needle their showmen blossoms with synthetic odors, like Nut D'Amour or Quoque Fleur, for the sake of a plated gold medal or a blue rosette.

I say this because the Massachusetts horse show people, who are supposed to be ultra-super, ultra-strict horse-lovers, have been bleeding their own brand of refined larceny with a scale model of the rule gypsies of the horse-trace underworld, which recently came to light when a Federal narcotic squad bagged a needle ring at a Chicago track.

Out, where the race track bagmen have been keeping the small fry bettors and therefore come under Federal scrutiny the Massachusetts horse show people, including some of our most distinguished stable owners, have been keeping each other on the theory that it is not only honest but their own and the S. P. C. A.'s which tries to prevent unwhimsical humans from squinting fizzy chemicals into animals' veins or otherwise altering them from nature's design.

I am thinking of the lady S. P. C. A. agent in Springfield last spring who found a deep cut in the back of a showjumping that belonged to a socially prominent exhibitor and determined that the animal would not jump that night. As the lady agent scuttled off for legal reinforcements, the instructor was frozen with ether, and when she came back the stablemanager had effected a miraculous cure by exchanging stalls with another bay gelding of similar appearance. So that the lady agent had nothing to show her constable but a perfectly sound horse on which there was not even the reek of ether.

And I know an owner who possessed two chestnut hunters of similar markings and size, and performed a neat illusion by doubling them in the same jumping event to obtain the prize money of the one and the conformation of the other, switching them between the two phases of the event. Which would seem to have required collusion from the judge, except that horse judges, save for a well defined few, are notoriously credulous with a talent for thinking.

After the Best Manner of the Race Track Crowd

And there is a saddle pony with a nervous, jittery temperament which used to jerk her head and fret on the showing line, but which lately has acquired a local placid ring manner that prompted her owner to praise her placid. "He has done a fine job of schooling," he told me. Only the owner does not know that the trainer ships a heroin capsule into the animal just before showing time, spending the interval gnawing his fingers lest the dose wear off before the class is over, which sometimes happens and explains the steed's inconsistent record.

There is another sleek steed that would be a splendid specimen except for a broken wind that causes it to wheeze like a leaky piccolo until needed with a soothing compound which lets it breathe like a sleeping infant at least 30 minutes. But come around later and the nag will be blowing like a traffic cop at a downtown intersection.

But the chief chiseling method comes in framing the classes by ambitious exhibitors who lavish entertainment on susceptible judges and usually bid and board them in princely style with flowing bowls and loving tenderness, while pointing to the excellent features of their stable. Or the committee, which is usually made up of the largest stable owners, selecting their judges for fraternal fellowship and goodwill toward the committee. And it is sometimes the practice of a show chairman to select a professional dealer who has sold him a hard saddle pony, hunter or jumper; and has a natural weakness for his own horses.

I recall recently that a local owner entered a horse in a class for ponies under 14.3 hands and in due course received the blue animal a polite pat on the head. The owner, who is usually made find that a rival exhibitor from out of town was protesting his horse as being over the limit. After some surliness and gallery muttering, the judges measured the animal and found, in truth, that it was several inches over the limit.

"Well, in my face red," said the owner, "his hooves grow so fast."

And I know of a certain prominent woman judge who was fazed at a lady exhibitor's horse previous to the showing and who awarded a particularly lovely silver bowl to her late hostess as first prize for hunters, saying as she did:

"It will look thrilling on your sideboard, my dear, but excuse me now, I'll have to run for it."

S. P. C. A. Would Take Curl Out of Horses' Tails

Few people knew why the German military team waved its arms and shouted "Donnerwetter!" in the Boston Garden several winters ago. But the Germans, after performing cleanly over the jumps were charged with the task of being consigned to the second place with two faults scored against them. And they made such a fury of sound as they threatened to leave the show flat on its nose, that an adjustment was made.

Who, even virtuous Miss G. has quaint ways and there seems to be something about a horse that draws forth so much inherent sneakiness from human nature. For example, take the custom of various local stable managers who sometimes station their spies around the border of the ring to check their tongues covertly when a rival is performing and otherwise distill and while sudden, violent flashes of their programs.

Next season Francis Rowley of the local S. P. C. A. will propose his bill to stop breeders and trainers of show horses from cutting the tail muscles of their animals to make their bristles stand up in a lovely, curving arch. The practice of severing certain ligaments and fastening on a patented "Tail set," so that as the round heels the tail will lift in the air like a graceful plume is quite common. Sometimes the trick is performed clumsily and the tail has to be broken over at some pain and inconvenience to the animal.

It seems to him that the patriotic horse showman and his hirelings are sometimes brothers under the skin with the vulgar types of the race track, though it is needless to point out that the proportion of gypsies are about the same in high as in low walks of life. Of course, there are many owners of spotless character and others who are unwitting victims of tricky handlers, and while I find that he bulk of horse show judges or inferior, biased and a kind of sporting heels, there is a staunch old guard like Henry Vaughn of Norfolk, Rufus Finch of Monmouth, W. J. and Major Leonard of Washington. So that the horse show business needs a moral stable cleaning to make it no worse, and not much better, than the spiritual level of the race track.

Two Hits Go—for One Out—As Ump Talks Down Debating Team of Tribe

Two hits went for one out in the seventh inning of Thursday's Braves-Dodgers fray at the Tepee and then the debate raged. Maranville doubled, then he apparently was safe at third when Zachary was thrown out at first. But the Ump Moran ruled Zachary had hit the ball twice (once is a tough enough feat for most ball players) and so Tom was sent back to second. Maranville scored a moment later on Bill Urbanski's single. The Braves won, 3 to 0. Pilot McKechnie led the Tribe's debaters, above, but to no avail. It's tough to outtalk an arbiter. First Aid for Finger SUELEDS BEATS Miss Gottlieb the First Yankee to Beat Wales

By JOE CASHMAN
Hired members of 16 locals of the big league pitching union are erecting a statue in honor of Jonathan Thompson upon any other baseball season happens along.

Hand, but I can't do anything about it. There's nothing in the way of a pitcher can't apply any first aid treatment he desires, if he gets hurt. "So we'll have to take a lickin'," moaned Max. "Looks that way, unless you can solve those southwest slams," said Charlie, returning to his task of "fling balls and strikes." And Old Tom kept right on mowing the Dodgers. He was paid for two single, and but one in the third. In fact, Tom threw out six batters himself.

UMP MAKES OLD RULINGS
Thus Moran was forgiven for the two odd rulings that he made against the Tribe.

ZACHARY WITHIN LAW
Only to the consternation of the crowd, he was within the law. At least so ruled Umpire Charlie Moran, who seemed to have a delicate decision to make every time he turned around in this particular case.

"How come that old guy, who has trouble getting anybody else out, stands on our collective heads?" queried George Carey, a show while later.

CAREY COMPLAINS
"You don't get me now," came the reply. "He's using something illegal—I think they call it a 'bush'—to keep the ball on the bench and rub it on his finger."

"It's the new model," said the umpire. "He's using something to keep the ball on the bench and rub it on his finger."

"He has something on the hand," said Moran, departing for the box, where Jonathan Thompson was warming up with a disadvised arm.

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—Frank Childs, lanky New Yorker, raced through Ryan M. Grant Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., in straight sets today to gain the final round of the 43rd annual Southampton Invitation tennis tournament at the Meadow Club. The scores were 6-0, 6-2, 6-2.

Shields, recent winner of Seabright and second seed here, played sweeping, aggressive tennis from the start and never gave the diminutive "Bugs," surprise conqueror of Gregory Mangin, a chance against the New Yorker's smashes and all-around powerful game Grant was almost helpless.

Shields never let down as he constantly forced the play and he broke through Grant's service three times in the first set.

On the basis of his first set, Grant Shields became the favorite against the winner of the Frank & Mary Shields Wood match, which was to determine the second finalist for the trophy.

Manchester, N. H., Aug. 4 (AP)—Ross, capable golfer of Hartford Conn., won in the final of the New England Amateur championships over Charles Clark, a former champion, 4 and 3 at the Manchester Country Club.

Ross took a one-hole edge after the first round, lost the match and halved the next two, but then lost four straight.

Clark, in the afternoon round, made three birdies and a par on the first four. He tied the count on the 24th, but lost the 25th and 26th.

Clark won the 26th, but he lost the next three, and the final two were halved.

He put down the phone with that air of easy grace which he and his alone, and the old crowd looked on and cheered once again. "Now, Mr. Newcomb, what is this story about?"

And the Prince's trouble of the telephone forced him to hold up his diamond-decked hand in admonition. "Ed now I saw the thing, and reported to the proper authorities that he had stolen his centerpieces out of Ed George's $100,000 diamond."

MAN'S SAFE FOR YEAR
It was Mr. Thompson's Yankee put on to convince him from New York. Well, to make a long story a trifle, says a friend of his.

"The Prince gave me a box of golf balls of which I am very proud," Miss Gottlieb said, "and he signed my golfing sweater which I shall treasure."

Those who are not so dry would be pretty worried if they saw a thing like that.

Each who take five hours plus know you like it well as 1933.

A REAL TREAT
 (Trans. from the Los Angeles Paper)
 "Warren Williams will appear as part of the stage show at Grauman's Chinese. He will speak by telephone to Dick Powell, who is recuperating at the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital from influenza. The conversation will be amplified to an audience by means of a loud speaker system."

MEN OF VISION

Today, friends, it gives us great pleasure to present Dr. James J. Faraway, economic aerologist, who announces that industrialists are merely waiting their breath in protesting against the thirty and forty hour week. "In a very few years," says Faraway, "ten hours will constitute the maximum labor week. Then it will drop to five hours, and all too soon we will reach the millennium, or, at least, the point where the useful work of the world will be done entirely by red tape."

And furthermore, we tip our hat to husbands who snore: "Well, what if I did?"

Adam Scott's Journal
 Home, where friends, with simple, I can bore me a hole in a pine board with a gimlet, and when I place an spike therein I can drive nail in with one mighty blow of the hammer, and this please my dame nightly, as she hath been discontent since Mrs. Shattuck say her husband can tear a telephone directory in two, albeit I do not tell my wife of gimlet, nor doth Shattuck tell his wife what humile the directorie listeth.
